
Infusionsoft with Send Out Cards (Beta Testers)

Posted by RMalham - 2008/10/21 11:10

I have developed an integration service called Internet Automater (www.internetautomater.com) that bridges the gap between Infusionsoft and Send Out Cards (www.sendoutcards.com) If you are an SOC user and have thought about using it in an automated fashion, you quickly realized that it's not very easy to connect the two.

The system I have developed allows you to easily communicate from Infusion to SOC with just one email. I am looking for beta testers from the CMAC community to really tryout the system and see where it breaks.

I have also recently added the ability to perform data merges inside of the card panels. Until now, this wasn't practical to do because it required manually entering data. But now, the Internet Automater accepts whatever data you want to merge and it will insert it wherever you want in the card body.

Please go to www.internetautomater.com/beta_tester_form.asp or me at ryan@internetautomater.com and I will be glad to setup a beta account for you.

Ryan,
We just called you! Sign us up! We have an SOC account and are CMAC people also. It'll be interesting to see how these two will integrate.

My partner Surreina just signed up for the S.O.C account and the first hing I said was how cool if we could incorporate and integrate with infusionsoft. And sure enough you've created it, awesome! We would be happy to give you reliable and honest feedback on your beta testing.

Ryan,
Are you still looking for beta testers for the SOC?
If so I might be interested.

I'm just getting started with InfusionSoft and am an avid user of SOC. What's involved in getting the two systems integrated?

It's pretty simple. Just go to my site (www.internetautomater.com) and sign up to be beta tester. You will receive an email with some templates. Just create a new task template, fill in the body and add the task to a sequence. I can help you with the setup too.

Ryan,

Looks great. I currently usually use gmail as my email client and/or send from infusionsoft directly. Does this connect to infusionsoft directly or only through outlook/MS outlook...?

I am hoping it connects directly through to infusionsoft to s.o.c. - if so can I set-up follow through infusionsoft to soc or does just send contact info and I still need to fire-off soc follow series...?

BTW, I am a little new to infusionsoft so still figuring out how it all works.

Is there any price to this beta test...?

Ryan, any updates on this, since it's been close to a year since you started this thread?

Things are going pretty well with the system. I have had to adapt to changes at both SOC and Infusion. There have been about 50 beta testers signups, but only about 10 have actually done the work required to connect the two systems.

If you'd like to see how it works, let me know.

Ryan,

I am interested in this as an Infusionsoft and SOC users. I might be thick but it it not clear to me exactly what the interface does. Have you some more detail or a demo on YouTube?

David

You're not dense. I do need to make a video. Did you look at my site? Sing up for the 14 day trial. That will fill in some of the gaps. Call me if you need more help. 866-343-2345
